NEW CAR BARNS WILL BRING FIFTY MORE PEOPLE HERE

Affiliated Street Railway Lines to Have Headquarters in Charleroi

START ON NEW BUILDING

Practically All Employes on Both Lines Will Have to Live Here

By a recent decision of the officials of the Webster, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City Street Railway company, and the West Side Electric Street Railway company, both corporations of which are closely affiliated to make Charleroi their headquaters, this town will receive a big impetus to its industrial standing. The move involves the removal of practically the entire force of the two roads to Charleroi, and the building of a new car barn and shops and offices. In the neighorhood of fifty employes, the most of whom now live at Belle Vernon, will be transferred to Charleroi.

Immediately with the decision of the two corporations to make Charleroi the headquarters for both roads, steps were taken for the erection of the car barn necessary for the transfer. At present the car barn is located at West Belle Vernon. This will be abandoned as the chief layover when the new barns are built. The latter have been located at McKean avenue and Thirteenth street, where Lincoln avenue intersects, and excavating has commenced. The work will be pushed through to completion as rapidly as possible.

The new building is to be of brick, 50 by 200 feet, which will accommodate nine cars. This will meet present requirements, but provisions will be made for expansion, whereby 25 cars can be cared for when necessary. The building will be of brick with steel roof girders, and will contain the necessary shops and storehouses for supplies. A part of the structure will be two stories, on the second floor of which will be located the superintendent's office, locker rooms for the conductors and motormen, toilet rooms, and a recreation room for the employes.

C. N. Bennett, chief engineer of the corporations, stated that the companies have not yet decided whether they would build the structure themselves or by contract. The excavating for the foundation is being done by the Hallam Construction company, which is doing the paving at North Charleroi. Some changes in the streets in that location are under consideration by council which will extend McKean avenue to the borough line, and straighten out Lincoln avenue. Council has practically sanctioned these changes, which will improve conditions at that end of town.

The transfer of the headquarters of both these street car lines is an important one for the town, and will add considerably to the prestige and standing of Charleroi

Back to the Simple Life.

C. E. Lantz is preparing to move from the residence he sold lately to Dr. Edwin McKay at the corner of Fourth street and Washington avenue, to a farm he has purchasd near Carmicnaels, in Greene county. Mr. Lantz was one of Charleroi's substantial citizens and the family have many friends here who regret their departure.

Controller Opens Office Tomorrow

Charleroi Will be Represented at County Court House for First Time

Contoller John H. Moffitt and Deputy Controller Charles S. Ritchie will assume their new duties tomorrow morning. The controller's office will be located in part of the commissioners' office. Thursday evening the books of the county commissioner will be closed, the accounts having been checked up the books will be turned over to the county auditors.

The auditors have three months in which to complete their work. The office of county auditor will then become extinct. The system that will be used in the office of the controller will be similar to that in use in Allegheny county but not on so broad a scale.

PARK SEASON WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Farewell Dances the Last Two Nights Will be Special Features

THIS YEAR BEST OF ALL

With the two closing dances, tomorrow and Saturday nights, the Eldora Park season closes. As these week-end dances have been most popular events among the young people, a large attendance is expected as a fitting close to a highly enjoyable season.

Although Eldora has been in existence for some time the past season has been the best and most prosperous one of this pupular resort. Under the management of Tom P. Sloan and an efficient corps of helpers the park was more attractive than ever. There was no attempt to introduce startling and sensational features, and the public always found what it most enjoyed, a quiet, well managed spot out in the open, where a private or public outing could be held without fear of encroachment by undesirable elements. During the season many leading outings, both religious and secular, were held there, and it was the resort of individuals, families and private parties, who were always assured of all the privacy they desired. The attendance drew largely from all the nearby towns, and most pleasant recollections will be entertained for the season about to end.

Out on Bail

Heffran, to await the action of the November grand jury on the charge of killing Andy Gashes at Houston Run, Sunday afternoon, was discharged from custody Tuesday, bail being furnished in the sum of $2,500. Young's bondsmen are John Eckert and M. S. Warne.

Church Wedding Tonight.

ALL RIVER TOWNS ARE INTERESTED

Waterways Convention of Vital Importance to Towns of This Section

WILL BE AT CINCINNATI

That the fifteenth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, to be held in Cincinnati October 14-15, will be one of the most important waterways conventions ever held is acknowledged by all who are familiar with existing conditions at Washington and in the country at large. It will also from present indications be the largest convention ever held by this association. Reports from river towns between Pittsburg and Cairo and of the towns and cities not directly on the river indicate that they realize the benefit to them of the 9-foot stage and all the year round navigation of the Ohio. The general invitation, published a short time ago, to all mayors and commercial organizations in the six States in the association to appoint delegates was not confined by any means to "river towns" nor was the number of delegates limited.

Governor Harmon will welcome the convention to Ohio, and Governor Wilson of Kentucky will welcome the delegates when they cross the river. Many distinguished men will be on the program.

The big question before the convention will be the adoption by the Government of the policy of issuing bonds for the improvement of waterways.

President Taft is an Ohio Valley man, and is personally familiar with Ohio Valley and its needs and possibilities.

Secretary of State Knox is an Ohio Valley man, and is familiar with manufacturing industries and commerce, and their possibilities of expansion as any man, and no man has used plainer or stronger words in advocacy of the policy of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association.

DRAWN ON THE JURY

Panel From This Section to Serve at the November Court

Grand and petit jurors were drawn at Washington for the November term of court yesterday. Those from this community are as follows:

Grand Jurors—John Monier, Charleroi; Chas. Young, Allen township.

Petit Jurors—J. Bechtel, W. A. Hoge, Dennis Oates, Charleroi; M. Dooley, Allen township.

A remarkable feature about the list drawn is that the name of a Charleroi man appears who has been dead for nearly three months. This is Thomas Joyce, who was killed in an automobile accident near Connellsville July 4th.

Important Decision

Attorney General Todd has served notice on certain Western Pennsylvania brewing companies that unless within 30 days they stop supplying ice to their beer customers he will institute proceedings against them in court The complainant is the East Liberty Home Dressed Beef company, which conducts a cold storage and ice business at Latrobe. The complainant alleged that the brewing companies were exceeding their charter rights by selling ice to the public and supplying hotels, clubs and private purchasers with large quantities of ice as a present or premium with the purchase of beer.

75,000 GUESTS ARE EXPECTED

Centennial Celebration of Christian Church Excites Local Interest

ORGANIZED IN THIS COUNTY

The great Centennial convention of the Christian church is approaching. For four years centennial headquarters have been maintained at Pittsburg from which has been kept up a vigorous agitation of the centennial aims. Two days have been added to the convention period, and the whole raised to its hudredth power in all preperations of the centennial.

Far and wide it is well known that Washington county, Pa., was the birthplace of the "Restoration Movement." Here an Irish Seceder minister and his son thought out a plan for the union of divided Christendom, and then with an audacity of faith set out to achieve it.

The coming convention is the centennial celebration of the reading of the celebrated "Declaration and Address." Preparations have been made to entertain 50,000 guests in Pittsburg from October 11th to the 19th. Many are placing their estimate of attendance at 75,000 and some higher. The mountain peak of centennial enthusiasm will be the great communion service held at "Forbes Field" Sunday, October 17 at 3 p. m., at which 50,000 are expected to partake of the Lord's Supper.

Monday, October 18 is Bible school [illegible] has been secured to have charge of the music during the coming revival at the First Christian church, Charleroi, beginning October 24, will have charge of the music in Pittsburg this day. All men's classes in the United States are invited to march in the great parade at 7 p. m. on Monday. The "Anchor" class, Mrs. H. C. Boblitt, teacher, will demonstrate "Adult Bible School Work" this day.

On October 17, Centennial Sunday, the Bible school will be held at 9:30 a. m., the morning preaching services at 10:30, and the whole service will be in charge of the "Boys Brigade." Rev. Miller, pastor of the Ninth Street Christian church, Washington, D. C., will occupy the pulpit. The brigade boys will remember Rev. Miller as their host when attending the Taft inauguration.

The Pennsylvania railroad has granted a rate of $1.50 to Pittsburg and return, October 10th to 25th. Tickets can be purchased October 10, 11, 15, and 16 and are good returning until October 25.

As usual the big store is filled to overflowing with new and seasonable goods, specially displyed for the occasion. With more room and greater facilities to display goods in the numerous departments, the showing this season is particularly fine.

As usual, the millinery and suit departments are the chief centre of attraction for feminine visitors. Instead of souvenirs to visitors as has been the custom heretofore, cash souvenirs will be paid on certain lines of goods purchased. To learn the extent of these souvenirs, you will have to visit the big store.

Special Lutheran Service.

Rev. F. J. Howard of Monessen will preach in Christ Lutheran church at the peparatory service tomorrow, Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. Rev. M. M. Allbeck of Monongahela will also be present and take part in the service.

There will be a game of football between Roscoe and Dunlevy at the Dunlevy grounds, Saturday, October 2 at 3:45 p. m.

MONON. MAYOR DEFENDANT IN THREE LEGAL ACTIONS

Assessment Will Not Increase Values Here

Thus Far in the Work Charleroi Does Not Show Material Gains

Harvey A. Parsons, who was appointed assessor by the court in the place of J. E. McCardle, resigned, is busy on the triennal assessment for Charleroi. He has completed McKean avenue and is now at work on Fallowfield. He has secured the services of Ex-Assessor A. S. Mansfield to help with the work as he could not do it alone in the specified time.

So far as the work has progressed Mr. Parsons is of the opinion that the assesment for Charleroi will not show much of an increase. While there are increases in some quarters there are depreciations in others, so that one he thinks about equalizes the other.

LEADING WOMAN PROVES HER WORTH

Called in the Profession a New England Blanche Bates

APPEARS HERE TONIGHT

"A New England Blanche Bates" is the way that an enthusiastic admirer once described Miss Lucy Black—the winsome leading woman of "The Lily and The Prince" company, which appears at the Coyle Theatre tonight. And well does this description fit her, for apart from her histrionic ability, which she has proved time and time again in roles of most difficult and trying nature, Miss Blake is a splendid type of the breezy jovial American girl—a University girl and as one critic expressed it "so interestingly intelligent that one is almost disposed to wonder why she ever became an actress." She is petite, graceful and gracious. Her voice is of that pleasing quality, well bred timbre that always compels admiration. She has a personality that is worth a fortune to her, all because she is a sensible, companonable young woman, who apparently hasn't learned how to be theatrical, the qualities so rare among leading woman and stars, that the resemblance to Blanche Bates becomes all the stronger. Miss Blake made her debut some years since and has run the gamut of dramatic roles. In "The Virginian," "Paid in Full" and by her artistic interpretation of 'Angela di Savalli" in "The Lily and The Prince" has proved her worth as a leading woman.

L. U. B. A. Social.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is going to hold a social and literary event tomorrow evening at the church. The name given the affair is L. U. B. A., signifying "Let Us Become Acquainted," and is for the ostensible purpose of the society of young people getting better acquainted with one another. A cordial invitation is extended to all Epworth Leaguers to come out and have a nice social time.

Proceedings Taken to Compel Him to Sign Lighting Ordinance

CITY MAY BE IN THE DARK

Claims There's Nothing in Charter to Warrant Electric Contract

Another proceeding has been started, the third growing out of the lighting imbroglio at Monongahela. The latest suit was filed yesterday when the West Penn Electric company petitioned for a rule on Mayor L. C. Isler of Monongahela to show cause why a writ of alternative mandamus should not be issued to compel him to sign the ordinance passed by the councils of that city, providing for an electric lighting contract with the West Penn electric company. The rule is made returnable Friday, October 1, at 10 o'clock.

A few days since the city filed a petition for a rule on the mayor to show cause why an alternative writ of mandamus should not be awarded to compel the mayor to sign the ordinance in question. To this action the mayor on Monday filed a motion to quash the petition and rule, avering the action brought by the city was not warranted by law. The mayor holds it is not mandatory but discretionary with him whether he signs the ordinance.

The first proceeding, which is still pending, was brought by Henry Elliott and others of Monongahela against the city and the councils to enjoin them from carrying out the contract entered into with the West End Electric company for the lighting of the city. The plaintiffs in this action hold the city charter provides for the lighting of the city by gas and not electricity. Electric lights have been used in the city for some time and they are still being used, but in addition there are many Welsbach lights. Under the contract in question it is proposed to do away with the Welsbach lights.

His many friends will be glad to know of his success as an inventor.

One of the Lucky 13.

Some time ago the Pittsburg Railways company announced that it would reduce its force of 13 division superintendents to six. In the shakeup U. G. Fitch of the Charleroi division was retained with the Washington division attached to this one. Mr. Fitch is a capable official who is highly regarded here, and his many friends are rejoiced to known that he was one of the elect.

Charleroi Should Speak.

Charleroi has an opportunity to have a voice in the convention for the improvement of waterways to be held at Cincinnati October 11 and 15. This will be one of the most important waterways conventions ever held in this country, and all the river cities and towns, as well as other sections interested in cheaper traffic, are making preparations to send delegates and urge upon Congress the great importance of making the Ohio river navigable the year around. Charleroi is as vitally interested as any of the towns on the upper Monongahela river, and should join this procession of progress.

The important feature of this convention is to impress upon Congress the importance of the Ohio river as an improved waterway. An inland waterways policy for the United States is in the embryotic stage and it needs energetic and systematic work to develop it. The proposition is to issue Government bonds to start this work and continue it to completion. What is necessary is for this section to impress upon Congress the necessity of giving the Ohio improvements the preference. Representatives of other sections of the country, from the Delaware river, the Mississippi, the Great Lakes, besides various canal projects, are all contending for precedence. United work by all concerned will bring the Ohio improvements to the front, and it's up to this section to add its efforts and influence.

Too Prosperous.

Because of the increased prosperity throughout the country the proposed mammoth coke merger of all the independent plants in the Connellsville region has fallen through. The immediate cause assigned is that the money to finance the deal—$60,000,000—was not readily forthcoming, and as the options expire, many of them, the first of October, individual operators will not renew them.

When the coke market was in the dumps nearly every operator was ready to combine. Now, with coke approaching the $3 a ton figure, and the demand greater than the supply, no one wants to combine. The proposed project was a good one, and could have been financed if time and liberal terms were given. The individual operators, however, refuse to sell their plants to the combine for any other terms than cash, and as capital is now in demand everywhere, the merger could not be pulled off within the specified time on a cash basis. The country is simply too prosperous now to effect the proposed combine.

Tardy Justice.

It is stated that the Carnegie Steel company is perfecting a plan whereby a chain of hospitals is to be installed at the various big plants under jurisdiction of this company. It has long been the wonder of the public why this was not done from the start in view of the philanthropic nature of the founder of this great concern. It is not to be supposed for a moment that these big industrial plants have not exacted a fearful toll in life and accident. It is a well known fact by those who live in the steel manufacturing towns that it was always the policy of the Carnegie steel company to keep from the public as much as possible the large list of accidents at their plants. Because of the lack of emergency hospitals at these plants countless lives have been lost and untold human suffering endured.

It must not be supposed that the hospital system to be installed is prompted by humane motives. It is the growing sentiment in favor of employers' liability legislation making employers liable for accidents and deaths that is back of the move. The big steel company is adopting the hospital plan because it is cheaper. However, results count, and if public sentiment has forced this concern to become humane, a big gain in that direction has been accomplished.

AT THE COYLE TONIGHT

"The Lily and the Prince" Marks Opening of The Season

A pretty love story in dramatic form will be presented at the opening of the Coyle Theatre here tonight. This "The Lily and the Prince," which is founded on the romantic period in "days of old when knights were bold." The costumes are pretty. Its women are beautiful. Its men are men. The scenes are chosen with a view of delighting the eye.

The first act has a real novelty. A beautiful fountain in full action is seen playing on flowers and fern, while the sun shines in full glory on a garden of happiness and peace in the home of Angela. That is the girl. She is a slip of a girl, like our American daughters sweet and loving, free from cares and admired by all. The second act is a beautiful tapestry room, such as hang in the palaces of Russia, Italy, France, Germany and England. The third act is another novelty, hung in entire black velvet. The fourth act brings one back to the same scene as the second, culminating a story of intensity and delightfully interesting to the auditors.

Ervin Hannen had a run off Sunday while driving a colt and in the mixup someway got his leg broken. He had the little son of Mr and Mrs. Henry Hannen with him and the little fellow was thrown out but was not hurt.

SOUSA'S BAND AT PITTSBURG EXPO

Fine Music Draws Crowds to Big Industrial Show

John Philip Sousa, the internationally famous "March King," is playing a brilliantly successful engagement at the Exposition this week and hundreds of people from the out-of-town districts are in attendance at the concerts daily to hear this ever popular bandmaster.

The Sousa programs are particularly interesting this season and replete with much that is new. The soloists are Miss Frances Hoyt, soprano; Miss Grace Hoyt, mezzo-soprano; Miss Florence Hardeman, violinist, and Herbert L. Clarke, the famous cornetist. The work of these soloists won instant recognition and the concerts as a whole are a source of delight to all music lovers.

The Theodore Thomas Orchestra will begin a week's engagement at the Exposition next Monday afternoon, Oct. 4, and it is needless to say that this popular organization will draw large crowds. Frederick Stock, the director, has just returned from an extensive tour of Europe, and the Exposition engagement will be the first played this summer by the orchestra. Mr. Stock picked up many novelties in the way of music while abroad and visitors to Music Hall can look forward confidently to new and attractive programs. At the close of its engagement the orchestra will go on an extensive tour covering the music centers of the country. The Theodore Thomas Orchestra is the crack musical organization of Chicago, where it appears every winter in the presence of the most cultivated and fashionable audiences. Director Stock is a musician of brilliant talents, and upon the death of Theodore Thomas he took charge of the orchestra, already famed throughout the country, and he has kept up its high standard of excellence ever since.

Among the new features of the Exposition are Captain Louis Sorcho, the famous deep sea diver, and the wireless telegraph exhibit. Captain Sorcho's entertainment includes an exhibition of how divers work in the deep sea and all details pertaining to the mechanism and operation of diving apparatus.

The wireless telegraph system is in machinery hall, where telegraph towers are erected and messages flashed back and forth. The wireless telegraph is now used in handling railroad trains and operating torpedo boats. These features are all practically demonstrated with miniature cars and boats. This exhibit is one of more than ordinary interest besides being of educational value. The archaeological, irrigation, agricultural, mechanical and electrical attractions, together with the Monitor and Merrimac naval battle, the greatest of all spectacles, comprise one of the largest exhibitions in the history of the Pittsburg Exposition.

VOL. X. NO. 37. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1909. One Cent

NEW CAR BARNS WILL BRING FIFTY MORE PEOPLE HERE

Affiliated Street Railway Lines to Have Headquarters in Charleroi

START ON NEW BUILDING

Practically All Employes on Both Lines Will Have to Live Here

By a recent decision of the officials of the Webster, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City Street Railway company, and the West Side Electric Street Railway company, both corporations of which are closely affiliated to make Charleroi their headquaters, this town will receive a big impetus to its industrial standing. The move involves the removal of practically the entire force of the two roads to Charleroi, and the building of a new car barn and shops and offices. In the neighorhood of fifty employes, the most of whom now live at Belle Vernon, will be transferred to Charleroi.

Immediately with the decision of the two corporations to make Charleroi the headquarters for both roads, steps were taken for the erection of the car barn necessary for the transfer. At present the car barn is located at West Belle Vernon. This will be abandoned as the chief layover when the new barns are built. The latter have been located at McKean avenue and Thirteenth street, where Lincoln avenue intersects, and excavating has commenced. The work will be pushed through to completion as rapidly as possible.

The new building is to be of brick, 80 by 200 feet, which will accommodate nine cars. This will meet present requirements, but provisions will be made for expansion, whereby 25 cars can be cared for when necessary. The building will be of brick with steel roof girders, and will contain the necessary shops and storehouses for supplies. A part of the structure will be two stories, on the second floor of which will be located the superintendent's office, locker rooms for the conductors and motormen, toilet rooms, and a recreation room for the employes.

C. N. Bennett, chief engineer of the corporations, stated that the companies have not yet decided whether they would build the structure themselves or by contract. The excavating for the foundation is being done by the Hallam Construction company, which is doing the paving at North Charleroi. Some changes in the streets in that location are under consideration by council which will extend McKean avenue to the borough line, and straighten out Lincoln avenue. Council has practically sanctioned these changes, which will improve conditions at that end of town.

The transfer of the headquarters of both these street car lines is an important one for the town, and will add considerably to the prestige and standing of Charleroi

Back to the Simple Life.

C. E. Lantz is preparing to move from the residence he sold lately to Dr. Edwin McKay at the corner of Fourth street and Washington avenue, to a farm he has purchasd near Carmichaels, in Greene county. Mr. Lantz was one of Charleroi's substantial citizens and the family have many friends here who regret their departure.

Controller Opens Office Tomorrow

Charleroi Will be Represented at County Court House for First Time

Contoller John H. Moffitt and Deputy Controller Charles S. Ritchie will assume their new duties tomorrow morning. The controller's office will be located in part of the commissioners' office. Thursday evening the books of the county commissioner will be closed, the accounts having been checked up the books will be turned over to the county auditors.

The auditors have three months in which to complete their work. The office of county auditor will then become extinct. The system that will be used in the office of the controller will be similar to that in use in Allegheny county but not on so broad a scale.

PARK SEASON WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Farewell Dances the Last Two Nights Will be Special Features

THIS YEAR BEST OF ALL

With the two closing dances, tomorrow and Saturday nights, the Eldora Park season closes. As these week-end dances have been most poular events among the young people, a large attendance is expected as a fitting close to a highly enjoyable season.

Although Eldora has been in existence for some time the past season has been the best and most prosperous one of this pupular resort. Under the management of Tom P. Sloan and an efficient corps of helpers the park was more attractive than ever. There was no attempt to introduce startling and sensational features, and the public always found what it most enjoyed, a quiet, well managed spot out in the open, where a private or public outing could be held without fear of encroachment by undesirable elements. During the season many leading outings, both religious and secular, were held there, and it was the resort of individuals, families and private parties, who were always assured of all the privacy they desired. The attendance drew largely from all the nearby towns, and most pleasant recollections will be entertained for the season about to end.

Out on Bail

Constable John Young of Union township who was lodged in the county jail on a commitment issued by Coroner James T. Heffran, to await the action of the November grand jury on the charge of killing Andy Gashes at Houston Run, Sunday afternoon, was discharged from custody Tuesday, bail being furnished in the sum of $2,500. Young's bondsmen are John Eckert and M. S. Warne.

Church Wedding Tonight.

The wedding of Miss Edna Gass of Charleroi and Ray Miller of Donora will take place at Christ Lutheran church this evening. Rev. C. E. Frontz will perform the ceremony.

ALL RIVER TOWNS ARE INTERESTED

Waterways Convention of Vital Importance to Towns of This Section

WILL BE AT CINCINNATI

That the fifteenth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, to be held in Cincinnati October 14-15, will be one of the most important waterways conventions ever held is acknowledged by all who are familiar with existing conditions at Washington and in the country at large. It will also from present indications be the largest convention ever held by this association. Reports from river towns between Pittsburg and Cairo and of the towns and cities not directly on the river indicate that they realize the benefit to them of the 9-foot stage and all the year round navigation of the Ohio. The general invitation, published a short time ago, to all mayors and commercial organizations in the six States in the association to appoint delegates was not confined by any means to "river towns" nor was the number of delegates limited.

Governor Harmon will welcome the convention to Ohio, and Governor Wilson of Kentucky will welcome the delegates when they cross the river. Many distinguished men will be on the program.

The big question before the convention will be the adoption by the Government of the policy of issuing bonds for the improvement of waterways.

President Taft is an Ohio Valley man, and is personally familiar with Ohio Valley and its needs and possibilities.

Secretary of State Knox is an Ohio Valley man, and is familiar with manufacturing industries and commerce, and their possibilities of expansion as any man, and no man has used plainer or stronger words in advocacy of the policy of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association.

DRAWN ON THE JURY

Panel From This Section to Serve at the November Court

Grand and petit jurors were drawn at Washington for the November term of court yesterday. Those from this community are as follows:

Grand Jurors—John Monier, Charleroi: Chas. Young, Allen township.

Petit Jurors—J. Bechtel, W. A. Hoge, Dennis Oates, Charleroi; M. Dooley, Allen township.

A remarkable feature about the list drawn is that the name of a Charleroi man appears who has been dead for nearly three months. This is Thomas Joyce, who was killed in an automobile accident near Connellsville July 4th.

Important Decision

Attorney General Todd has served notice on certain Western Pennsylvania brewing companies that unless within 30 days they stop supplying ice to their beer customers he will institute proceedings against them in court The complainant is the East Liberty Home Dressed Beef company, which conducts a cold storage and ice business at Latrobe. The complainant alleged that the brewing companies were exceeding their charter rights by selling ice to the public and supplying hotels, clubs and private purchasers with large quantities of ice as a present or premium with the purchase of beer.

75,000 GUESTS ARE EXPECTED

Centennial Celebration of Christian Church Excites Local Interest

ORGANIZED IN THIS COUNTY

The great Centennial convention of the Christian church is approaching. For four years centennial headquarters have been maintained at Pittsburg from which has been kept up a vigorous agitation of the centennial aims. Two days have been added to the convention period, and the whole raised to its hudredth power in all preperations of the centennial.

Far and wide it is well known that Washington county, Pa., was the birthplace of the "Restoration Movement." Here an Irish Seceder minister and his son thought out a plan for the union of divided Christendom, and then with an audacity of faith set out to achieve it.

The coming convention is the centennial celebration of the reading of the celebrated "Declaration and Address." Preparations have been made to entertain 50,000 guests in Pittsburg from October 11th to the 19th. Many are placing their estimate of attendance at 75,000 and some higher. The mountain peak of centennial enthusiasm will be the great communion service held at "Forbes Field" Sunday, October 17 at 3 p. m., at which 50,000 are expected to partake of the Lord's Supper.

Monday, October 18 is Bible school day. Prof. Frank C. Huston, who has been secured to have charge of the music during the coming revival at the First Christian church, Charleroi, beginning October 24, will have charge of the music in Pittsburg this day. All men's classes in the United States are invited to march in the great parade at 7 p. m. on Monday. The "Anchor" class, Mrs. H. C. Boblitt, teacher, will demonstrate "Adult Bible School Work" this day.

On October 17, Centennial Sunday, the Bible school will be held at 9:30 a. m., the morning preaching services at 10:30, and the whole service will be in charge of the "Boys Brigade." Rev. Miller, pastor of the Ninth Street Christian church, Washington, D. C., will occupy the pulpit. The brigade boys will remember Rev. Miller as their host when attending the Taft inauguration.

The Pennsylvania railroad has granted a rate of $1.50 to Pittsburg and return, October 10th to 25th. Tickets can be purchased October 10, 11, 15, and 16 and are good returning until October 25.

GIVES CASH SOUVENIRS

New Wrinkle Adopted at Berryman's Big Fall Opening This Year

The general fall opening of Berryman's Big Department Store starts today and will continue four days, ending next Monday. As usual the big store is filled to overflowing with new and seasonable goods, specially dispiyed for the occasion. With more room and greater facilities to display goods in the numerous departments, the showing this season is particularly fine.

As usual, the millinery and suit departments are the chief centre of attraction for feminine visitors. Instead of souvenirs to visitors as has been the custom heretofore, cash souvenirs will be paid on certain lines of goods purchased. MONON. MAYOR DEFENDANT IN THREE LEGAL ACTIONS

Thus Far in the Work Charleroi Does Not Show Material Gains

Harvey A. Parsons, who was appointed assessor by the court in the place of J. E. Shoberle, resigned, is busy on the triennal assessment for Charleroi. He has completed McKean avenue and is now at work on Fallowfield. He has secured the services of Ex-Assessor A. S. Mansfield to help with the work as he could not do it alone in the specified time.

So far as the work has progressed Mr. Parsons is of the opinion that the assesment for Charleroi will not show much of an increase. While there are increases in some quarters there are depreciations in others, so that one he thinks about equalizes the other.

LEADING WOMAN PROVES HER WORTH

APPEARS HERE TONIGHT

"A New England Blanche Bates" is the way that an enthusiastic admirer once described Miss Lucy Black—the winsome leading woman of "The Lily and The Prince" company, which appears at the Coyle Theatre tonight. And well does this description fit her, for apart from her histrionic ability, which she has proved time and time again in roles of most difficult and trying nature, Miss Blake is a splendid type of the breezy jovial American girl—a University girl and as one critic expressed it "so interestingly intelligent that one is almost disposed to wonder why she ever became an actress." She is petite, graceful and gracious. Her voice is of that pleasing quality, well bred timbre that always compels admiration. She has a personality that is worth a fortune to her, all because she is a sensible, companonable young woman, who apparently hasn't learned how to be theatrical, the qualities so rare among leading woman and stars, that the resemblance to Blanche Bates becomes all the stronger. Miss Blake made her debut some years since and has run the gamut of dramatic roles. In "The Virginian," "Paid in Full" and by her artistic interpretation of "Angela di Savalli" in "The Lily and The Prince" has proved her worth as a leading woman.

L. U. B. A. Social.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is going to hold a social and literary event tomorrow evening at the church. The name given the affair is L. U. B. A., signifying "Let Us Become Acquainted," and is for the ostensible purpose of the society of young people getting better acquainted with one another. A cordial invitation is extended to all Epworth Leaguers to come out and have a nice social time.

Proceedings Taken to Compel Him to Sign Lighting Ordinance

CITY MAY BE IN THE DARK

Claims There's Nothing in Charter to Warrant Electric Contract

Another proceeding has been started, the third growing out of the lighting imbroglio at Monongahela. The latest suit was filed yesterday when the West Penn Electric company petitioned for a rule on Mayor L. C. Isler of Monongahela to show cause why a writ of alternative mandamus should not be issued to compel him to sign the ordinance passed by the councils of that city, providing for an electric lighting contract with the West Penn electric company. The rule is made returnable Friday, October 1, at 10 o'clock.

A few days since the city filed a petition for a rule on the mayor to show cause why an alternative writ of mandamus should not be awarded to compel the mayor to sign the ordinance in question. To this action the mayor on Monday filed a motion to quash the petition and rule, avering the action brought by the city was not warranted by law. The mayor holds it is not mandatory but discretionary with him whether he signs the ordinance.

The first proceeding, which is still pending, was brought by Henry Elliott and others of Monongahela, against the city and the councils to enjoin them from carrying out the contract entered into with the West End Electric company for the lighting of the city. The plaintiffs in this action hold the city charter provides for the lighting of the city by gas and not electricity. Electric lights have been used in the city for some time and they are still being used, but in addition there are many Welsbach lights. Under the contract in question it is proposed to do away with the Welsbach lights.

One of the Lucky 13.

Fitch of the Charleroi division was retained with the Washington division attached to this one. Mr. Fitch is a capable official who is highly regarded here, and his many friends are rejoiced to known that he was one of the elect.

Charleroi Should Speak.

Charleroi has an opportunity to have a voice in the convention for the improvement of waterways to be held at Cincinnati October 14 and 15. This will be one of the most important waterways conventions ever held in this country, and all the river cities and towns, as well as other sections interested in cheaper traffic, are making preparations to send delegates and urge upon Congress the great importance of making the Ohio river navigable the year around. Charleroi is as vitally interested as any of the towns on the upper Monongahela river, and should join this procession of progress.

The important feature of this convention is to impress upon Congress the importance of the Ohio river as an improved waterway. An inland waterways policy for the United States is in the embryotic stage and it needs energetic and systematic work to develop it. The proposition is to issue Government bonds to start this work and continue it to completion. What is necessary is for this section to impress upon Congress the necessity of giving the Ohio improvements the preference. Representatives of other sections of the country, from the Delaware river, the Mississippi, the Great Lakes, besides various canal projects, are all contending for precedence. United work by all concerned will bring the Ohio improvements to the front, and it's up to this section to add its efforts and influence.

Too Prosperous.

Because of the increased prosperity throughout the country the proposed mammoth coke merger of all the independent plants in the Connellsville region has fallen through. The immediate cause assigned is that the money to finance the deal--$60,000,000--was not readily forthcoming, and as the options expire, many of them, the first of October, individual operators will not renew them.

When the coke market was in the dumps nearly every operator was ready to combine. Now, with coke approaching the $3 a ton figure, and the demand greater than the supply, no one wants to combine. The proposed project was a good one, and could have been financed if time and liberal terms were given. The individual operators, however, refuse to sell their plants to the combine for any other terms than cash, and as capital is now in demand everywhere, the merger could not be pulled off within the specified time on a cash basis. The country is simply too prosperous now to effect the proposed combine.

Tardy Justice.

It is stated that the Carnegie Steel company is perfecting a plan whereby a chain of hospitals is to be installed at the various big plants under jurisdiction of this company. It has long been the wonder of the public why this was not done from the start in view of the philanthropic nature of the founder of this great concern. It is not to be supposed for a moment that these big industrial plants have not exacted a fearful toll in life and accident. It is a well known fact by those who live in the steel manufacturing towns that it was always the policy of the Carnegie steel company to keep from the public as much as possible the large list of accidents at their plants. Because of the lack of emergency hospitals at these plants countless lives have been lost and untold human suffering endured.

It must not be supposed that the hospital system to be installed is prompted by humane motives. It is the growing sentiment in favor of employers' liability legislation making employers liable for accidents and deaths that is back of the move. The big steel company is adopting the hospital plan because it is cheaper. However, results count, and if public sentiment has forced this concern to become humane, a big gain in that direction has been accomplished.

AT THE COYLE TONIGHT

"The Lily and the Prince" Marks Opening of The Season

A pretty love story in dramatic form will be presented at the opening of the Coyle Theatre here tonight. This "The Lily and the Prince," which is founded on the romantic period in "days of old when knights were bold." The costumes are pretty. Its women are beautiful. Its men are men. The scenes are chosen with a view of delighting the eye.

The first act has a real novelty. A beautiful fountain in full action is seen playing on flowers and fern, while the sun shines in full glory on a garden of happiness and peace in the home of Angela. That is the girl. She is a slip of a girl, like our American daughters sweet and loving, free from cares and admired by all. The second act is a beautiful tapestry room, such as hang in the palaces of Russia, Italy, France, Germany and England. The third act is another novelty, hung in entire black velvet. The fourth act brings one back to the same scene as the second, culminating a story of intensity and delightfully interesting to the auditors.

SOUSA'S BAND AT PITTSBURG EXPO

Fine Music Draws Crowds to Big Industrial Show

John Philip Sousa, the internationally famous "March King," is playing a brilliantly successful engagement at the Exposition this week and hundreds of people from the out-of-town districts are in attendance at the concerts daily to hear this ever popular bandmaster.

The Sousa programs are particularly interesting this season and replete with much that is new. The soloists are Miss Frances Hoyt, soprano; Miss Grace Hoyt, mezzo-soprano; Miss Florence Hardeman, violinist, and Herbert L. Clarke, the famous cornetist. The work of these soloists won instant recognition and the concerts as a whole are a source of delight to all music lovers.

The Theodore Thomas Orchestra will begin a week's engagement at the Exposition next Monday afternoon, Oct. 4, and it is needless to say that this popular organization will draw large crowds. Frederick Stock, the director, has just returned from an extensive tour of Europe, and the Exposition engagement will be the first played this summer by the orchestra. Mr. Stock picked up many novelties in the way of music while abroad and visitors to Music Hall can look forward confidently to new and attractive programs. At the close of its engagement the orchestra will go on an extensive tour covering the music centers of the country. The Theodore Thomas Orchestra is the crack musical organization of Chicago, where it appears every winter in the presence of the most cultivated and fashionable audiences. Director Stock is a musician of brilliant talents, and upon the death of Theodore Thomas he took charge of the orchestra, already famed throughout the country, and he has kept up its high standard of excellence ever since.

Among the new features of the Exposition are Captain Louis Sorcho, the famous deep sea diver, and the wireless telegraph exhibit. Captain Sorcho's entertainment includes an exhibition of how divers work in the deep sea and all details pertaining to the mechanism and operation of diving apparatus.

The wireless telegraph system is in machinery hall, where telegraph towers are erected and messages flashed back and forth. The wireless telegraph is now used in handling railroad trains and operating torpedo boats. These features are all practically demonstrated with miniature cars and boats. This exhibit is one of more than ordinary interest besides being of educational value. The archaeological, irrigation, agricultural, mechanical and electrical attractions, together with the Monitor and Merrimac naval battle, the greatest of all spectacles, comprise one of the largest exhibitions in the history of
